The Knights of Labor Yield a Point in the Labor Conference.

They Do Not Ask Control and Consent to Local Autonomy.

CONFERENCE CALLED TO MEET IN WASHINGTON NEXT FEBRUARY.

Federation of All the Labor Organizations Probably Impossible This Year—The Knights Have Come Nearer to It Than They Ever Were Before—The Local Brewery Strike to Be Given Attention.

The conference of American Federation of Labor, Knights of Labor, Locomotive Engineers, Locomotive Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Farmers' Alliance representatives could not resume its deliberations at 10 o'clock this morning because its Committee on Resolutions had not reported. The committee, consisting of Samuel Gompers of the Federation, M. J. Bishop of the Knights and Labor, and Charles W. Miller of the Locomotive Firemen, put in the evening after adjournment without getting any formula ready for presentation; and this morning sent in word to the conference asking for additional time. It was granted, and at 11 o'clock the committee made its appearance, and the conference went to work with closed doors.

A report containing six sections was submitted to the conference by its Committee on Resolutions, and up to the hour of adjournment of the morning session no provision had been adopted. These are as follows:

PARTIAL REPORT.

1. A conference of the representatives of the organized labor of North America shall be held semi-annually, at such place and at such time as the city of Washington, D. C., may determine, for the purpose of considering questions of mutual interest, and of advancing the protection and advancement of working masses.

2. Representation in the conference shall be from the American Federation of Labor, the various brotherhoods and orders, national organizations of wage-workers and farmers as are not affiliated with the Federation, and from all other national or international labor organizations which are not affiliated with the International Union of the same trade or calling.

The conference adjourned until 2 p.m., when the further proceedings of the conference were taken up.

MR. MC GUIRE HOPEFUL.

"This meeting is the result of a movement set on foot by men who are no longer connected with the Knights of Labor," said P. J. McGuire, Secretary of the Conference and head of the Carpenters' and Joiners' organization. "It does not mean organized union—at least not for some years—but I would say it is rather a grafting

"In which the Federation is the tree and the Knights of Labor the branch." was suggested.

Neither Miners Nor Operators Pleased With the New Scale.

Some Owners in Pennsylvania Say They Will Not Accept It.

PREPARATIONS TO RESUME ALREADY BEGAN AT A FEW POINTS.

About Farmersburg, in Indiana, All the Mines Expected to Be Working Within Forty-eight Hours—Entire Force of Miners Working at Kewanee, in Illinois—The New Agreement Disliked at La Salle—General Situation.

FARMERSBURG, Ill., June 12.—The settlement of the coal strike at Columbus by the agreeing upon a scale was received with great satisfaction among all classes of people, although some operators and miners are not pleased with the compromise. Many operators who opposed the compromise say they will not abide by the agreement, but it is the general opinion among friendly operators that the adjustment will put an end to the importation of non-union men by the operators in the thick vein district for the reason that the hiring of deputies will be too expensive, when coal begins to decline in price, as it unquestionably will, when mining is resumed at a number of collieries. The friendly operators have already begun preparations to resume, and in a few days their mines will be running again.

Organizer Harris says the settlement is a disappointment to the miners, and while he does not expect them to return to work at the new rates, they will regard the movements as unsuccessful.

RESUMING IN INDIANA.

FARMERSBURG, Ill., June 12.—It now looks as though by next Thursday at the latest all the coal mines in Sullivan, where the struggle has been hottest, will be in operation. The outcome of the conference at Columbus is regarded as certain to bring about a settlement of the strike. The miners at Farmersburg went to work this morning, and those at Shadyside are still idle, but will return to work within a few hours. Alton, Cassville, Hill, Hiemeyer, Star City and Curryville have been heard from this morning, and the miners there say the strike probably will be started within the next forty-eight hours. There is general rejoicing in Sullivan County at the turn of affairs and the coal diggers are highly pleased.

ACCEPT THE SETTLEMENT.

KIEWAWE, Ill., June 12.—Nearly the whole force of miners has gone to work here. While there has been considerable feeling among the miners, there has been no violence, and no violence and the settlement at the Columbus convention will be accepted here as final.

DO NOT INDORE IT.

LASALLE, Ill., June 12.—The miners here do not take kindly to the scale agreed upon at Columbus. They claim the new price for Lasalle is equivalent to a 10-cent reduction and decide they will not accept it.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

Price for Coal Mining Settled Upon at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 12.—The joint Scale Committee of Miners and Operators reached an agreement at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, adopting, after two days' deliberation, a compromise based on a rate of 69 cents for Western Pennsylvania miners and 60 cents for Ohio.

The agreement is to take effect and work is to be resumed next Monday, June 18. The interval will be necessary for preparing the miners to accept the compromise.

Among the miners of the long-absent of miners from the coal regions from the head-quarters in Philadelphia, and it may keep the Executive Board in session for two or three weeks.

The report of the conference is not likely to be made public, as it must be of a confidential convolution of all the bodies participating, and it is considered quite probable that it will not meet the views of all of them. It seems probable, however, in view of the leading part which the American Federation is taking in the conference, that the intervention of the conference was a virtual admission that the principle of non-intervention had yielded the best results.

Incidents to the assembly of the Executive Board. Knights of Labor will receive attention. A delegation of the local brewers met the diverse members of the conference this morning at the Laclede Hotel, and another meeting was arranged for this afternoon.

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS.

T. H. McGuire, who gave the strike his attention here last February, and who is well known to its working informants, reported as well as the other leaders that the strike will be out come the 1st of July, and mentioned where the local miners were out on strike.

He said the miners never lost a boy during the fight with the mine owners, and the ultimate result.

Mr. Walsh, only daughter of Edmund D. Walsh, after suffering for nearly a week with a severe fever, last evening at 7 o'clock at the residence of her parents and grandmother, Mrs. Socrates Newman, No. 2025 Pine street. She was an unusually beautiful and bright child, not yet 4 years of age, and was the object of much love and care by which loving hands covered her.

President John McBride and Secretary Frank R. Campbell, of the other miners' headquarters are preparing a letter to be sent to the miners in the respective districts.

Thousands to Follow.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Berwind-White Coal Mining Co., operating in Clearfield and Jefferson counties, Pa., intend, according to the statement of John Z. Berwind, Vice-President and General Manager, to have the miners' headquarters to be trying blow to their partners, who were completely wrapped up in the child. In their opinion they will have to pay for what was done.

There were only a few miners in the car, and the miners' headquarters to be trying blow to their partners, who were completely wrapped up in the child. The first consignment was an experimental.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Primary Teachers' Union.

Commanding tomorrow the Primary

Teachers' Union will meet every Wednesday at 10 a.m., instead of Saturday, until September.

With them we will send the remaining 4,000. I am now awaiting word from our Superintendent. It is not true that laborers are being brought from Europe to take the places of the strikers. The miners are making up the coal strike to fill the places of our strikers and a good many more.

Want at Least 70 Cents.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 12.—The Indiana miners are firm in their resolution not to agree to anything less than the 70-cent rate of last year, and threaten their officials with violence if their wishes are not respected.

They are determined to "hold out" to the last moment, and say that they can barely live on even 70 cents.

Fuel Supply Shut Off.

ASHLAND, Ky., June 12.—The local fuel supply, both household and industrial, is now entirely shut off. The men of all the local coal banks that have heretofore furnished the coal last night enlisted with the United Mine Workers.

TRIED TO DROWN HERSELF.

Mrs. Mollie Blaser Jumps Into the River.

Mrs. Mollie Blaser, 20 years old, living at 610 Geyer avenue, attempted to commit suicide at 10:30 p.m. yesterday by jumping into the river at the foot of Termination street. She was rescued by John Maloney, who was washing clothes in the river near where she jumped in. She was taken to the home of a relative named Sebastian Weisz, who lives at 221 Main street. She said she did not know what she was doing.

JUDGE DILLON CASE.

His Sentence Virtually Affirmed by the State Supreme Court.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 12.—In the Supreme Court, Division No. 1, twenty opinions were handed down. At the last sitting of the court the State moved, in the case of the State vs. Duffy, City of St. Louis, charged with criminal assault upon Mrs. Rose, that an order issue, sending back the transcript of the records for correction and rectification to this court. This was to-day ordered. It will be remembered that after the case was argued in the Supreme Court the Attorney-General discovered that the indictment had been altered, and charged that Duffy's counsel did this in the interest of his client. Judge Edmunds and Circuit Attorney Zachritz made affidavit that the indictment had been altered without their knowledge and after the charge to the jury had been given. The court's order in this case is equivalent to a confirmation of Duffy's sentence, which is to a term of fifteen years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The decision then states that the respondent claims that the court had no right to inquire into anything that occurred at the trial of the respondent's trial earlier than it appears on the record proper and that the subsequent examination could be had on the evidence received in the trial on the charges.

The decision then states that the respondent claims that the trial on any of the charges or specifications that there was no hearing at all, and that the evidence must be examined. The notice of removal of the respondent, as of the date of trial, was not in the form of a finding on the charges and specifications, but seems to be a finding on the facts which are not set out. It is not clear what is the nature of a judgment based on a verdict which does not appear. The proceedings did not show any cause for removal.

THE TRIAL ORDER.

The trial's order then states that he was forced to trial on indefinite charges, was well taken, as also his charge that at the trial the evidence was not confined to matters tending to prove the specified charges.

The general charge preferred against the relator amounted to nothing, and the court sustained by the specifications.

At the hearing abandoned "entirely" these specifications and agreed with the trial court on the general question of whether the respondent's opinion the relator was competent to discharge the duties of Health Commissioner. The trial court rejected the objection to the specification of removal, as it should have been sustained. All in every sense of justice represents the idea of accusing or charging a person of one thing when then at the hearing proving something else.

There was also nothing on which to base the conclusion that the evidence was not prejudicial to relator. The trial court found of either guilty or not guilty in any of the specifications; the only thing among the specifications that he was removed for the cause shown in the charges and specifications. Relator contends that the statement that he was removed for the cause of all the charges and specifications.

This position of respondent cannot be maintained, for in one specification at the hearing abandoned "entirely" these specifications and agreed with the trial court on the general question of whether the respondent's opinion the relator was competent to discharge the duties of Health Commissioner.

The trial court rejected the objection to the specification of removal, as it should have been sustained. All in every sense of justice represents the idea of accusing or charging a person of one thing when then at the hearing proving something else.

NO CAUSE SHOWN.

In this state of the proceedings it is impossible to say of what the relator was found guilty, or for what cause he was removed.

In other words, the proceedings fail to show that he was removed for cause.

The proved charge that a doctor had not visited the one-horse town for two weeks and not given the food of the patient, would not be deemed cause for removal, inasmuch as for fifteen years past this had not been done.

A DEBATED CAMPAIGN.

Whether Col. Breckinridge is elected or defeated the people of the Ashland District owe him another debt of infamy for having dragged them into the most disgraceful contest that ever darkened their political history.

It was inevitable that a campaign of mud-slinging should follow the announcement of Breckinridge's candidacy. That act made the personal issue the paramount, the only issue of the contest. There was no question of his political soundness or capacity, but solely of accepting him as a fit representative of an honorable people on the platform of his own confessions.

Breckinridge's appeal to the voters made it imperative that his opponents should direct their arguments to the man. The protests of decent people against the candidacy of such a man could only be answered with reprimands and scandalous insinuations. There was no escape from descent into the slime of scandal, blackguardism and ruffianism, which is now a new sooty fair name of Kentucky.

Attempts were made to blackmail reputable men and women into acquiescence with public dishonor by threats of scandal. Scandalous charges and threats of violence have taken the place of political discussion. The contest for the post of honor held in the past by the greatest and most revered men of Kentucky is now a rivalry in scandal-mongering. The Ashland people have cause for profound resentment against the hoary old sinner whose brazen impudence has brought this shame upon them, and who repays their kindness by debasing their hustings and shouldering upon them the consequences of his villainy.

APS OF WAR.

France Prepares to Defend Her Interests in Morocco.

A Fleet of Four Vessels Now on the Way to Tangier.

SIGNS OF REVOLT AGAINST MULEY HASSAN'S SUCCESSOR.

England Disturbed by the Action of France—The Partition of the Sultan's Possessions Among the Powers of Europe a Strong Probability—Muley Ismail's Pretensions to the Throne.

London, June 12.—The news of the dispatch of a French fleet to Morocco and preparations being made to re-inforce it if necessary, is attracting considerable attention here. The news from Morocco is far from being reassuring and civil war is anticipated. Conflicting reports are still in circulation in regard to the death of Sultan Muley Hassan, which is said to have occurred while he was on a journey on the 7th of this month, and under circumstances which lead to the suspicion that he was poisoned.

The general opinion in London is that Muley Hassan's son, Abd el Aziz, who has assumed the throne, will have to defend its possession with the sword.

The Wall Street Journal this afternoon, referring to the jealousy of the powers in Morocco, says that the danger to European interests is due to the fact that M. Dupuy is Premier, and that he may take this opportunity of striking a blow at English prestige. It is added that a policy of aggression would be popular in France and Spain, which control the straits, and that the route to Morocco through the Suez Canal is almost a direct line. A franchise to Creve Cour Lake was granted also to the Clayton & Fife Company. The route begins at Central and St. Ferdinand avenue.

NOT FRANK B. FILLEY.

His Name Was Given by a Man Arrested on a Charge of Robbery.

Frank B. Filley, General Superintendent of the Excelsior Manufacturing Co., is quite indignant, because the police of the Third District allowed some officials to give him the name when arrested on the charge of stealing $1 from Jessie Ford, a disreputable woman, who conducted the house 604 Carr street. A great injustice was done Mr. Filley by this error. The correct name of the man arrested for the alleged offense was Frank B. Filley, Jr., son of Frank B. Filley, and not Filley, as was reported by the clerk at the Third District station. Mr. Filley was given considerable annoyance by the police, who, he says, were very anxious to catch the thief, and the mistake is made doubly aggravating because as states, it is the second time his name has been used erroneously under similar circumstances. There is only one Frank B. Filley in the city.

France has the deepest interest in averting the conquest of the Sultan's dominions by any other European power, and especially by England, which, in the interests of Gibraltar, would if she acquired control of the African side of the strait, be able to lock up the Mediterranean and shut off communications between the British Isles and upon the one hand, and Bordeaux, Brest and Havre on the other. It will be of concern to all the other European powers to prevent England from acquiring absolute mastery over their only outlet to the Atlantic.

Powers' British interests at Tangier are strong enough to be balanced by the French, who would be bound to make a full disclosure of their British Government's machinations, if they could. The British Government has had more than one case of regret since the wonderful achievements of France in Algeria, and the recent developments of movements of African countries and trade, that it ever relinquished its former possession of Tangier.

It is now more than sixty years since France got her footing in Algeria, and she evidently has no intention of receding a single step. On the contrary, her ambitions are conterminous with the Sultan's, and she has been for some time engaged in quietly absorbing his subjects, one country after another, and is making himself of the proximity to place himself under French protection.

France now holds the rich oasis of Touat, about 150 miles inland from the coast, and a strip southeast of Tangier, in the central northern portion of the Sahara. It is by now the most splendid possible strategic position in North Africa. Hence the great caravan routes converge from all parts of the Sahara, and even from Central Africa, to the coast, and thence across the Gulf of Guinea. France has thus expanded, diverted and must eventually largely control the richest trade of a major portion of the entire African Continent.

FRANCE SENDS FOUR WARSHIPS.

Toulon, France, June 12.—Four warships under Admiral Le Bourgeois have started for Tangier, Morocco. The ironclads Magenta, Admiral Dupuy, and Algeciras, under Admiral Gouraud, are to proceed over the Suez Canal in readiness to sail for Morocco at the shortest notice.

NEWS OF A REVOLT.

Tangier, June 12.—The remains of the late Sultan Muley Hassan have been sent under military escort to Rabat for burial.

The succession of the late Sultan's younger son, Abd el Aziz, has been accepted at Casablanca, but a hostile feeling prevails at Fez, where the Sultan's representative, the deceased Sultan, has been acting as the Sultan's representative. Muley Ismail is a popular figure in Tangier.

The late Sultan was far above the average of his predecessors in wisdom and humanity. He sprang from the ferocious family of Fisli, now extinct, and was a man of great energy. Early in the seventeenth century the province of Taflet, on the edge of the desert, elected a Scherif named Ali. He and his descendants became the leaders of the Bedouin war extended their possessions until they reigned over all Morocco. It has been a long and bloody history of robbery, rapine, murder and cruelty.

The Spanish cruiser Conde Venadito has arrived here.

His condition was serious enough to all his father with great anxiety and he left Washington Sunday morning, arriving in the evening and staying at the Laclede. He spent the entire forenoon on his son's bedchamber. The young man is thought to be better now, but his condition is still serious.

COUNTY ELECTRIC LINES.

Three Roads Granted Franchises by the County Court Yesterday.

The St. Louis County Court yesterday granted a franchise to the Kirkwood & St. Louis Railroad Co., known as the "House Air-Line," for the operation of an electric line between St. Louis, Kirkwood and Meramec Highlands. The line is to connect the southwest corner of Forest Park with the Lindbergh Railway. The route begins in the Meramec Highlands and runs through Kirkwood across the Creve Coeur Lake division of the Missouri Pacific at Hazelwood, and thence over private property to Forest Park.

The County Court also granted a franchise to the Missouri Railway Co. to extend its line to the Western terminus of Pine Avenue and Faust, and to extend its line to almost a direct line. A franchise to Creve Coeur Lake was granted also to the Clayton & Fife Company. The route begins at Central and St. Ferdinand avenue.

NOT FRANK B. FILLEY.

His Name Was Given by a Man Arrested on a Charge of Robbery.

CITY NEWS.

Well! Well! Well! Did you see the crowds at Crawford's yesterday? If you did, you saw a sight such as you see nowhere else any day in the year! Mr. C. said himself, in his long experience of twenty-eight years on the corner, he had never before seen such crowds as were at his store yesterday! And Mr. C. has seen bigger crowds! And more crowds! In his time than all the other merchants in town rolled into one! Crawford's has the goods as no one else does! Crawford sells his goods as no one else does! Crawford buys for cash on the nail! and sells for cash on the nail! as no one else does! And Crawford is the only dry goods man in the city from the ground up!

RUSSIA'S ENCROACHMENTS.

Unrest caused by her operations on the border of China.

New York, June 12.—The North China Herald of Shanghai, in its issue of May 11, has a letter from its Shensi correspondent, containing the following: "The post news is that the Russians are in possession of the territory in Kashgar, that secures an open and uninterrupted contract with Indian possessions. An encampment of 800 Russian soldiers are actively fortifying the region. They refuse to retreat further than fifty li to the west of Kashgar City." Great Britain is holding on here on account of the fact that the Russians have not merely openly crossed their frontier, but are actively storing grain in caves surrounding Kashgar. In answer to the question: "Why don't you drive them to the frontier, and forbid the trespass and prevent occupation?" The answer given by an official from the spot is this:

"Alas, we are afraid of the consequences. Should we initiate an encounter at Kashgar, the result would be a general war in the North, who is prepared, China is not."

Besides we in office have to act only as instructed by the young Lungi Yamen. That body, after the Emperor and his majesty's will is submission."

"When you must be placed in a very undesirable position, we indeed, are. We have neither force nor freedom. The fact is, unless some foreign power intervenes, Russia will make a stand, and will hold on to the tributary of western tributary States and cores. Her way will then be open to the seaboard on the East, and the South. From the vast domain around her European and Asiatic positions would be more than a bear's paw."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TROUBLES.

A San Francisco Paper Says George Crocker is the cause.

San Francisco, Cal., June 12.—A local paper reviews the story that George Crocker is the cause of the trouble in Southern Pacific Railroad circles and that he was positively denied the privilege of withdrawing his share of the great Crocker estate from the Southern Pacific pool. The article says young Crocker made a formal demand upon the Crocker heirs, whose interests are managed by the Crocker company, to withdraw every cent of his money and his share of his father's estate from the railroad. He wants to have nothing to do with the transportation companies.

When Charles Crocker died, the story goes, his son, George, was left with only $100,000. The Crocker was not to receive his division of the estate for five years, and then it was conditioned that young George must cease his connection with the railroad.

For five years the young man has led a quiet life, and as a result he has received no compensation for his services. Now he is demanding what he claims to be his rights. It is stated that G. Huntington's practical and financial interest in the Improvement Co. has agitated Mrs. Stanford as well as George Crocker, and that both are determined to withdraw. The demands for an accounting, it is said, will be referred to Huntington, who is said to have threatened if the withdrawal from the Pacific Improvement Co. were to be delayed, the Lindell had paid $20,000 into that fund.

Mr. Haarstick, Treasurer of the Citizens' Committee, explained that he did not consider the withdrawal from the Improvement Co. as being a wise move, and he wanted to have them all complete.

It was then agreed that two of the necessary points should be covered: the City Commissioner passed a resolution declaring the lake completed according to the plans and specifications; and the Attorney-General, the petition was filed with the City Register a certificate covering three points: first, that the object of which is the annual meeting of the charter of the Standard Oil Co. The application for this charter annulment is made by the Central Labor Union of New York, and it is an interesting paper. But refer to it to satisfy yourself with the quota in the case of the Whisky Trust April 5, 1894, which is also significant. Judge Gibbons says:

"That the trustees and complainants should not exist."

It is then agreed that under the ordinance the commission must, at the completion of the work, file with the City Register a certificate covering three points: first, that the sum of at least $20,000 has been expended, and that $20,000 has been paid by the Lindell.

The City Commission intended to finally close up the lake affairs yesterday, but found that it could not be done.
